Pulpit Perspectives

Code: B121109

Most of us would probably like to read more, especially when it comes to current issues in the church and rich theological truth. But not everyone has endless time to scour the Internet or dig through seminary libraries to find top-notch writing on those topics. We get the sense we might be missing out, but we've got neither the time nor the insight to do much about it.

If you find yourself with an unfulfilled appetite for clear, powerful writing about God's Word, the state of the church, and a biblical perspective on the world around us, we've got good news for you. Pulpit Magazine is a new, monthly publication focused specifically on those important topics. It's produced by Grace Advance, a ministry of Grace Community Church, and it's available for your mobile devices, including iPads, iPhones, and Kindles.

With an excellent staff of writers that includes John MacArthur, Phil Johnson, and Lance Quinn, Pulpit Magazine is intended to bring consistent, biblical insight and encouragement to readers everywhere. By tackling doctrinal and practical controversies in the church, Pulpit will keep you up to date in ways that clarify and edify.

Pulpit Magazine can be a source of great encouragement, insight, and instruction for you and your family. For a preview of the first issue and more information on how to subscribe, click here.
